City Police ups the ante to rein in anti-social elements

- Volatile situation in Dakshina Kannada puts Police teams on high-alert mode
- 24/7 vigilance at all entry points; vehicles screened; lodges under scanner

Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) Pradeep Gunti along with Saraswathipuram Inspector Ravindra and Jayalakshmipuram Inspector Poonacha inspecting the vehicle checking operation at Bogadi check post this morning.

Mysuru, July 31 (RK&BCT)- Following a volatile situation in the communally sensitive Dakshina Kannada district where three back-to-back murders have taken place in a span of 10 days, security has been beefed up in Mysuru city limits with additional forces deployed in sensitive areas and check posts set up at all entry points.

Dr. Chandragupta

Anticipating trouble in the wake of communal incidents, day and night nakabandi (blockades) have been introduced where Police personnel keep a check on all vehicles entering the city and during the day, teams are visiting lodges and other accommodations seeking details of people who are staying and their duration of stay.

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta has enforced this order three days back and instructed officers and staff to be on their toes to prevent the entry of anti-social elements into the city from other places.

"There are inputs that some vested interest groups might want to disrupt peace in Mysuru city. We have increased surveillance and security to avoid untoward incidents, Dr. Chandragupta told Star of Mysore this morning.

"Our aim is to curb the movement of anti-social elements. Both Law and Order and Traffic Police have been involved in the operation and they are on surveillance mode. We want to prevent a Dakshina Kannada-like situation here. The intelligence machinery also has been activated to collect inputs and report to the senior staff," he added.

Constables at each Police Station have been instructed to collect information about people who move suspiciously and also movements in the isolated stretches. Check posts have been set up at Kalasthawadi Junction on Bengaluru-Mysuru Road near K.R. Mills, Sunanda Factory on KRS Road near Kusuma Chandrashekar Choultry, at Lingadevarakoppalu on Hunsur Road, Bogadi Ring Road Junction, H.D. Kote-Manandavadi Junction and at Devegowda Circle on Bannur Road.

All vehicles entering the city during the day and night, especially between 9 pm to 5.30 am are being checked and occupants of vehicles are asked about their purpose of visit to Mysuru and their duration of stay. Vehicles are being physically checked and seats are being lifted to check for weapons transport.

Dedicated registers are being maintained at all check posts and vehicle numbers, name and phone number of one occupant are being entered.

Dasara Golden Pass for themed package tours

Apart from witnessing Jumboo Savari, pass holders can tour Melukote, Kodagu, Chikkamagalur, Belur, Halebeedu

Bengaluru, July 31 (KMS & BCT)- Following the State Government's decision to celebrate Dasara in a grand manner this year after two years of scaled-down festivities, the Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) has sent a proposal to the Government to launch Dasara Golden Pass enabling tourists to view Jumboo Savari and also travel to other tourist destinations like Melukote, Chikkamagalur, Kodagu, Belur and Halebeedu.

This Golden Pass will, however, be different from the Dasara Gold Cards which is a premium pass providing hassle-free entry to all places of tourist interest within Mysuru.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, KSTDC Managing Director G. Jagadeesha said that the aim of the Golden Pass is to take tourists beyond Mysuru and direct them to other places of tourist interest. "We want to make the most of a grand Dasara this time and we are planning to attract domestic and international tourists to theme-based package tours to other tourist destinations in Karnataka," he said.

KSTDC has sent the proposal to launch 1,000 Golden Pass. "We are planning day packages and longer package tours with the Golden Pass and each pass would be charged Rs. 5,000. The package tours will begin in Mysuru and after witnessing the Jumboo Savari, tourists can proceed to other places in KSTDC buses," Jagadeesha added.

Mysuru Dasara and its attractions were promoted at the three-day India International Travel Mart that began in Bengaluru yesterday. On the occasion, e-brochure services were also launched where tourists can scan QR codes for details of hotels and services and book instantly.

Over 200 participants from various travel and trade organisations and tourism boards are attending the event and the Tourism Department is marketing Dasara for widespread reach. Tourism Departments from 20 States and six international destinations including Singapore, Malaysia, Dubai, Thailand, Maldives and Nepal are selling holiday packages at the Mart.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

With the 44th Chess Olympiad flagged off in Chennai, there is renewed interest in the board game that is thought to be the preserve of intellectuals. Intellectual application is definitely a crucial part of the game, but there are many other factors that come together to make a great chess player and to contribute to an engaging match. Chess masters don't evaluate all the possible moves. They know how to discard 98% of the ones they could make and then focus on the best choice of the remaining lot. That's the way expertise works in other fields, too: Wise practitioners recognise familiar patterns and put their creativity, improvisation, and skill towards the marginal cases, says player John Dickerson. The power of discrimination and wise choice is paramount it seems, together with creative interpretation and skill that comes with intense and regular practice.

Among a great many other things that chess teaches you is to control the initial excitement you feel when you see something good. It trains you to think before grabbing and to think just as objectively when you're in trouble, points out Stanley Kubrick, highlighting the importance of self-control and measured response. "In chess, you need to be as cool as a cucumber," remarked a player. Not showing joy or sadness, even if that was what you are feeling. Staying cool, collected and calm, just as would a seeker trying to meditate to achieve equanimity.

A part of the training to become a good chess player involves exercising control over emotions, control over how you respond and remaining centred despite any potential turmoil on the board. Perhaps all players, young and old, are in their own way replicas of Krishn's Sthithapragyas, individuals who do not lose their cool in the most trying of circumstances and disappointments, not getting carried away by elation that comes with triumphs. —Narayani Ganesh in The Times of India

India girl roller skates under 20 cars in 13.74 sec.

Pune: A 7-year-old girl from India broke a Guinness World Record for "limbo skating" when she strapped on her roller skates and glided under 20 cars in 13.74 seconds.

Guinness World Records confirmed Deshna Nahar of Pune broke the record when she skated low to the ground for a distance of 193 feet, passing underneath 20 cars in the process. Nahar broke the previous record of 14.15 seconds, which was set by a 14-year-old girl in China in 2015.

"Deshna discovered her love for skating. She's been learning to skate for the past two years, and over the past six months, she's been getting ready for this record in limbo skating. Her coach supported her a lot during the entire time. He encouraged her to do better," Aditya Nahar, the girl's father, told the Pune Mirror.

Lottery players win $50,000 after 30 years

Missouri: Two Missouri lottery players will split a $50,000 jackpot after they won using a set of hand-picked numbers.

The anonymous winners revealed that they had been playing those same numbers for the past 30 years. "He's always played the same numbers," one of the winners told the Missouri Lottery Thursday. "He couldn't hardly believe he won." The winner shared that the numbers had a family significance. It is unclear, though, how or if the two winners are related.

The winning ticket was purchased at a gas station in southwest El Dorado Springs, Mo., and garnered the $50,000 prize after matching four out of five winning numbers as well as the PowerBall number.

Players in Cedar County — where El Dorado Springs is located — have won over $1.7 million in cash prizes during the past year, the lottery said. As a result, stores where these tickets were sold received over $182,000 in commissions.

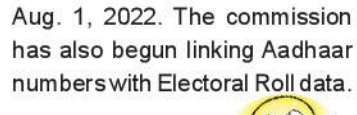
ECI enables citizens above 17 years to apply for Voter ID card in advance



New Delhi, July 31- The Election Commission of India (ECI) has announced that all the Indian citizens above 17 years of age can now apply in advance to get enrolled in the voters list and not wait until the voting age of 18 years.

The statement issued by ECI recently stated 'Youngsters above 17 years can apply in advance for having their names enrolled in the voters list and no need to wait for the pre-requisite criterion of attaining the age of 18 years on Jan. 1 of a year.'

The Commission led by Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Rajiv Kumar and Election Commissioner (EC) Anup Chandra Pandey has directed the Chief Electoral Officers (ECO) and Electoral registration officers of all States to work out tech-enabled solutions to enable the youths to file their advance applications concerning three subsequent qualifying dates – Apr. 1, July 1 and Oct. 1 and not just Jan. 1 of every year.

The move was taken following the Electoral Roll was only updated on Jan. 1, which meant that a large number of young people who completed 18 years had to wait for the particular summary revision of the following year for enrolment and were not able to participate in elections held in the intervening period.

This will boost EC's efforts to enrol new young voters who turn 18 in a year, for which an amendment was recently made to allow quarterly registration of voters. After getting registered, the young voters will be issued an Electoral Photo Identity Card (EPIC). For the current round of annual revision of the electoral roll, any citizen attaining the age of 18 years by 2023 can also submit an advance application for registration.

The Commission has already managed to induct 1,736,181 new voters between 18 and 19. Last year, 14,526,678 (14.5 million) new voters were added to the list, the Officials said. The Commission has also made the registration forms more user-friendly and newly modified forms will come into force on Aug. 1, 2022. The commission has also begun linking Aadhaar numbers with Electoral Roll data.

REALLY...?

- The most popular condiment in the Roman world was garum (sometimes called liquamen), a sauce made from filling pots with layers of fish or fish guts and salt and leaving them out in the sunlight for awhile. As the mix lay in the Sun's heat, the stomach acids of the fish would eat through their bodies and break them down entirely, leaving behind a brown goo. As proteins in the fish broke down, they released amino acid chains, including glutamic acid, which would combine with the sodium to create a salty fish sauce absolutely packed with monosodium glutamate, or MSG.

Provide traffic lights and safe walker-friendly footpaths

Sir,

I was born and brought up in this beautiful city and was a resident of Yadavagiri. I am now a regular visitor.

Over the last 3 decades, it is apparent that traffic in Mysuru has compounded. I appreciate the many changes the local Government has made to the city. That said, there is always room for growth.

I would like to bring to the attention of the concerned some much-needed improvements to the Akashavani Circle, with the safety of people in view.

Firstly, as difficult as it may be to synchronise traffic moving through an intersection where six roads meet (seven including the one going into the Railway compound), traffic lights at all times are a must. There are school children, college students, vegetable vendors, senior citizens and tourists crossing the streets at various times of the day, all of them completely at the mercy of the chaotic traffic.

I am sure the traffic authority will find this a great challenge, but it will definitely be a great achievement for them if they could successfully install working traffic lights day and night !

Secondly, the name 'Ta Ra Su Vrutta' definitely must be retained. Indeed we need to honour our literary personalities, but the archaic physical structure "the Circle" needs to go. The roads must be marked by clear lanes. This will allow for free traffic flow once the traffic lights start to work. The light poles can be moved to the corners to light up the intersection and sidewalks.

Lastly, the footpath on the right hand side leading to the Circle from Yadavagiri (Vivekananda Road) is blocked by the Railway Colony compound wall (see picture, marked in red). This is a life-threatening blind spot for vehicles coming in from KRS Road as well as to pedestrians walking to cross the road to go to Cheluvamba Park.

People, especially senior citizens, find it very difficult to cross the street. If this wall could be pushed back about 25 feet, it would open up the road and footpath (marked in green) for safe passage.

The above mentioned changes come from genuine concern and are much needed for the safety of the residents. Let's keep Mysuru beautiful, liveable and safe. I sincerely hope the authorities concerned will be able to do this without any political agenda.

Counterfeiting, smuggling grave threat to economy: KPA Director

Mysuru, July 31 (OSR)- Director of Karnataka Police Academy Anupam Agarwal has said that counterfeiting and smuggling are substantial threats to the economy and there is conclusive evidence of the increasing involvement of terror organisations in funding such illicit trade activities.

"There are adequate laws available, but enforcement of the laws makes the role of Police officers even more important in the fight against counterfeiters and smugglers," he added.

He was addressing the 'Capacity Building Programme for Police Officers on Prevention of Counterfeiting and Smuggling' organised by FICCI's Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy (CASCADE).

He said to meet the vision of Prime Minister Narendra Modi making the Indian economy, a 5-trillion-dollar economy, all stakeholders like FICCI, the Police and the industry need to work together more closely.

The KPA Director said that the loss of revenue to the Government due to counterfeiting and smuggling has a direct impact on spending on welfare measures such as healthcare and education. "Police Department is the primary law enforcement agency in our country and should play a significant role in ensuring that proactive and collaborative actions are taken against illicit players to protect the consumer's health, life and safety," he noted.

Weak surveillance

While giving an overview on the socio-economic impact of counterfeiting and smuggling, Deep Chand, Advisor, FICCI CASCADE and Former Special Commissioner of Police, New Delhi, highlighted that lack of stringent enforcement, weak surveillance and weak regulatory framework are the main factors responsible for illicit trade.

He said that the wider social, investment and criminal enforcement costs due to smuggling and counterfeiting could touch 4.2 trillion dollars by 2022, putting at risk 5.4 million legitimate jobs.

Pradeep Dixit, Vice President - Industry Affairs, ITC Ltd. stated that India is the 4th largest and fastest growing market for smuggling of illegal cigarettes, which calls for heightened awareness and sensitisation of people.

Nitin Saluja, Senior Policy Manager, Customer Trust, Amazon India said, "Amazon has introduced several initiatives and has put in resources to help customers enjoy the benefits of online shopping. He stated that their focus is to make marketplace a reliable and safe for customers, brands and sellers to conduct transactions. "We are focused on mitigating fraud and abuse on market places that hamper customer trust while helping protect from the risks the digital era may present," he added.

FICCI CASCADE has been working closely with the Government, industry, enforcement officials, legal fraternity, consumer organisations and the youth to create awareness of the adverse impact of the problem of counterfeiting and smuggling. The initiative has been regularly engaging with law enforcement agencies in sensitising them on the gravity of the problem.

Don't use Dasara as alibi to execute public works

In-charge Secretary, DC warn officers; issue directions to implement policies

Mysuru, July 31 (RK&BCT)- District In-charge Secretary N. Jayaram and Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham instructed officials not to lay concrete roads where they are unnecessary and instead use the money to re-asphalt the roads that are in bad condition.

They had a word of caution for the officers and told them that public work must not be compromised in the name of Dasara works. Jayaram and Gautham were addressing a progress review meeting at the Zilla Panchayat Auditorium on Friday where they told officers that public work must go on without any hindrance even at the peak of Dasara celebrations.

"During the Dasara High Power Committee meeting chaired by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, many elected representatives complained that the officials are not available for public work during Dasara celebrations and they use Dasara as an excuse to stay away from the office. It causes problems for the common man. This must not be repeated as Dasara too is our responsibility. The officials must concentrate on people's work too and must not cite Dasara schedules as an excuse," Jayaram said.

District In-charge Secretary N. Jayaram addressing the progress review meeting at the Zilla Panchayat Auditorium on Friday as Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham looks on.

Serious action warned

DC Bagadi Gautham said the District Administration manages Dasara celebrations and all the files will be cleared from his office without delay. "The CM has instructed serious action if public works are kept pending in the name of Dasara," he warned. Moreover, officials must tour places three days a week to understand the people's problems and provide solutions, he added.

Diverting the discussion on roads, the DC asked officers not to go ahead and lay concrete roads. "Concrete roads are an expensive proposition and needed only where there is a perennial seepage of water. Instead, the officers can use the money to asphalt many roads that are filled with potholes, he said.

Ensure a fair tender process

The DC also asked the officials to complete the works that have been approved and also the works where an action plan has been prepared. "Call tenders for all approved projects and complete the works within the stipulated time. Ensure that one contractor does not get multiple projects. Officers must use their discretion and judiciously allot work and at the same time, ensure quality is not compromised.

Jayaram directed the officials to inspect the ongoing works of drinking water projects. Civil works must begin within two days after the tender process is completed, he said and directed nodal officers to pay surprise visits to schools, anganwadis and hostels to ensure that the students are getting all benefits and to ensure that there is no pilferage.

Foodgrains in black market

Joint Director for Food and Civil Supplies Department Kumuda told the meeting that the Department has suspended the licences of 18 fair price shops due to illegal activities in Mysuru district. Show cause notice has been issued to 21 shops and cases have been filed against 39 shop owners. Also, illegal transportation of rice is being checked regularly, she said.

Officers must pay surprise visits to warehouses and fair price shops and register cases for violations as cases of selling rations in the black market and using them for other purposes are rampant, he added. MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and officers from all the Departments were present.

OBC list: Veerashaiva Mahasabha to protest tomorrow

Mysuru, July 31 (MTY&SSM)- Seeking inclusion of Veerashaiva-Lingayat community under OBC list and fulfilment of various other demands, Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva Mahasabha will stage a protest in city tomorrow (Aug. 1).

Disclosing this at a press meet at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday, Mahasabha State Committee Treasurer Varuna Mahesh said that a rally will be taken out from Basaveshwara Circle to Deputy Commissioner's (DC) office in city at 10 am tomorrow.

"From the past 60 years, various efforts have been made to get the Veerashaiva-Lingayat community included in the OBC list. As neither the State nor the Central Government have approved this, the community has failed to avail various benefits provided by the Central Government under various schemes."

Pointing out that most of the Community people have taken up agriculture and related activities as their profession, Mahesh said that the Community people are economically, socially and academically backward.

Urging protection of Khadi flag...

Citizens Forum takes out Flag Satyagraha rally

Mysuru, July 31 (PM&DM) - Strongly opposing the Centre's amendment to the Flag Code that allows use of machine-made and polyester flags during the forthcoming Independence Day celebrations across the country, freedom fighters, activists, Khadi flag makers and other citizens, under the banner of Mysuru Citizens Forum, took out a rally as part of Flag Satyagraha in city this morning. They urged the Centre to revoke the amendment and thus save the Khadi industry.

The rally, in which about 60 persons took part, passed through the Silver Jubilee Clock Tower, Dufferin Clock Tower, D. Devaraj Urs Road and N.S. Road, before reaching Freedom Park at Subbarayanakere Grounds, where a demonstration was held.

Mysuru Citizens Forum Convenor Prof. Kalachannegowda told Star of Mysore that the Centre is now propagating Har Ghar Tiranga campaign to mark the 75th year of Indian independence, which was the slogan of the country throughout the freedom movement. Maintaining that Khadi centres across the country have reached a dreadful situation with the Swadeshi economy touching its nadir, he said that it is an ironic that the country now has to celebrate Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav with synthetic flags that are either imported or produced by Desi industrialists. Asserting that the Flag Satyagraha intends to save Khadi flags and revive the rural economy, he urged the Government to take back the amendment to the National Flag Code and restore the old rule that permitted use of only Khadi flags for display and hoisting.

Accusing the Government of replacing natural fabric of Khadi with machine made and foreign make synthetic fabrics to benefit only some, he contended that the Khadi flag was mandated in the pre and post-independence days, until the Centre recently amended the Flag Code.

Asking the citizens to reject foreign made Indian flag during the 75th Independence Day celebrations and use only Khadi made flags, Prof. Kalachannegowda appealed the public to make the slogan Har Ghar Tiranga (a flag on every house), a call given by the freedom fighters into a reality in the true sense.

Senior theatre Director Prasanna, who also spoke, accused the Centre of making attempts to finish off the Khadi and Handloom sector by making such amendments. Claiming that thousands of spinning centres and lakhs of hand weaving centres have been shut down across the country for lack of encouragement and other factors, he said that the amendment to the Flag Code has dealt a death blow to the Khadi Industry.

Pointing out that the aim of Har Ghar Tiranga campaign of the independence movement days was to hoist a swadeshi flag on top of every house, he said that the latest amendment to the Flag Code has severely hit the demand for Khadi flags due to the new rule that permits the use of machine made and polyester flags. The Flag Satyagraha is targeted at forcing the Government to withdraw the amendment to the Flag Code, he added.

Forum office-bearer Leela Venkatesh, G.S. Jayadeva of Chamarajanagar's Deenabandhu Trust, Mysuru District Freedom Fighters Association President Y.C. Revanna and others were present.

The 'Flag Satyagraha' will go on till Aug.11 at different parts of the State along with several cultural programmes, exhibition of paintings, singing, enacting of plays etc.

City NSS volunteers utilise free time to clean Kukkarahalli Lake

Mysuru, July 31 (MTY&BCT)- Groups of NSS volunteers from the University of Mysore have taken up the task of cleaning the Kukkarahalli Lake of water hyacinth and other invasive weeds that have intertwined with each other, thereby choking the Lake.

The picturesque lake provides much-needed lung space to the city and is dominated by water hyacinth (Eichornia). Conservationists say that the proliferation of water weeds in the Lake needs to be addressed for its sustainable conservation. They recommend periodic cleaning of the Lake and stopping the discharge of untreated sewage entirely.

Earlier, water hyacinths were on the margins of the Lake. Now they are growing and spreading towards the centre. Prof. K.M. Jayaramaiah, popular as 'Kere Jayaramaiah' of the Kukkarahalli Lake Conservation Committee said that the service of the NSS volunteers has been sought as a short-term measure to clean the Lake.

"These weeds deprive the Lake of oxygen and it could be fatal for fish and if there is no fish, then birds can't survive," he said. The cleaning task began on July 28 and will go on for some days, he added. Most parts of the Lake stink and this is due to the decaying of wild weeds and invasive vines.

District NSS Co-ordinator M.B. Suresh said that based on the directions by University Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar and Registrar Prof. R. Shivappa, NSS volunteers from different colleges are being sent to the Lake to remove water hyacinth. "Every day, we are deploying over 30 students for the task. We have holidays now and students from different colleges like Yuvaraja, Maharaja and Maharani's College are cleaning the Lake for over three hours a day," he said.

Even NCC cadets were part of the exercise during the first two days.

Meanwhile, the University of Mysore which has the responsibility of maintaining the Lake has called for tenders to clear wild growth and invasive weeds in the Lake.

"This is a lovely sport and there is no need of being scared of drowning as life-jackets are mandatory. Panchayat members hold convention seeking perks

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB&DM)- Seeking fulfilment of various demands, hundreds of Gram Panchayat (GP) members from across the State under the banner of Mysuru and Chamarajanagar District Unit of Karnataka State GP members Federation, staged a massive convention at Dasara Exhibition Grounds this morning.

The demands include a hike in honorarium being paid to GP Presidents, Vice-Presidents and members, issuance of a free bus pass, insurance coverage and pension benefits, treating GP as local self-government as envisaged in the Constitution, a hike in GP members' area development funds and release of more grants to GPs, among others.

The Changing Face of Namma Mysuru!

Over the past few years, we have all been noticing that the old and sedate, but incredibly charming face of Namma Mysuru has been steadily changing. Being very gradual, this change so far has not been unlike the transformation in the face of a beautiful lady when she gracefully steps from youth to old age, losing none of its charm in the process and instead, acquiring a glowing patina and sheen of its own.

But suddenly, our city now seems to be all set to undergo some drastic plastic surgery and a complete change of face, going by some new things that are taking place on our royal soil. While I am not very sure whether all this is going to be good or bad for us, especially the old-time Mysureans, but change, however undesirable, is inevitable and it cannot be thwarted even by the most powerful forces.

It is very much like the weathering of rocks and very often the entire landscape, by the gentle and almost imperceptible forces of wind and water. No rock however solid can resist their impact in the long run. That is why there is much truth in the age-old saying that... In the battle between rock and water, the water always wins, not because of its power but because of its perseverance!

Very soon, in the next weekend to be precise, we are going to see in our city a mega conclave that will have all the ingredients of the commercial promotional events that are usually held these days in almost all metropolitan cities across our country. Mysuru, because of its environment and ambience, its prominence as a tourism hub, its now vastly improved and still improving connectivity by air and road, its climate and clean city tag, is all set to be the City of Smart Start-Ups & MSMEs.

All the aforementioned attributes, along with its close proximity to Bengaluru, make Mysuru an ideal city for any entrepreneur. It is a 'comfort with convenience' kind of story!

A 3-day Mega Mysuru Start-Up Pavilion & Conclave is being held on 5th, 6th, 7th August 2022 at the SJCE Campus, Mysuru. Some very bold ecosystem partners and start-up enablers will be hosting this mega event, to bring all like-minded players under one roof. Over 15,000 aspiring participants comprising students, innovators, researchers, educators and industry professionals are expected to visit the 100-plus start-up & MSME stalls and will have access to more than 25 speakers, investors, mentors, incubators and accelerators, all under one umbrella, justifying the tagline of the event as — One Place, Infinite Possibilities.

The event is set to offer access to the entire start-up ecosystem with keynote sessions, masterclasses, expert talks, start-up pitches, networking, panel discussions on cloud technologies, cybersecurity and many more. More importantly, the Mysuru Start-up Pavilion will also provide a platform for school kids and college-going students to present their innovative ideas to investors and the general public, showcasing possibilities for new-gen aspiring entrepreneurs.

Even in the field of healthcare which is what I am associated with, or interested in, Mysuru is fast emerging as a very reliable and convenient destination people can head to, for quick and effective health care without the hassles of navigating through the congestion of larger cities. Unlike in the very recent past when one had to necessarily rush to Bengaluru for advanced medical treatment, now most good hospitals in our city are more than adequately equipped to handle almost all medical emergencies.

Many of my friends who are settled abroad always prefer to come down to Mysuru for their non-emergent health needs and some of them are doing this even for their annual health check-ups which they synchronise with their visits to India! It may seem like an extreme coincidence but even as I was writing this article, a friend of mine called me up from Dubai to tell me that I should get in readiness a good ward at a good hospital to get him operated for the haemorrhoids that were bothering him for the past few months! I wonder if I can call this a 'Bottoms-Up' kind of story!

Sensing the great need that exists to showcase and market healthcare infrastructure that can be developed here in Mysuru, the Mysuru Start-Up Pavilion & Conclave has offered to give a stall at its exhibition where this can be done. And, a few leading hospitals which happen to be members of MAHAN, The Mysuru Association of Hospitals, Nursing Homes, Clinics and Diagnostic Centres, will be conducting events like patient education, free health check-ups and maybe even free COVID booster dose vaccination there under the banner of MAHAN.

Even as things stand today, Mysuru already has a mix of entrepreneurs who have brought new energy and passion to the existing eco-system, with their own success stories, be it in the field of electronics or cutting-edge technology. Being the pioneers who first tested the waters, they have all had positive journeys that can themselves inspire aspiring but sceptical entrepreneurs to live their own amazing experiences.

The year of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav certainly seems like the right time for the passionate aspirants to make the leap forward from job-seekers to job-givers. Yes, the time is just right and, entrepreneurship is a journey, not a destination. Begin your journey NOW and Be at the right place!

Mysuru, July 31 (RKB&DM)- Maintaining that the National Education Policy-2020 (NEP) is supplemental for building a self-reliant India, Primary and Secondary Education Minister B.C. Nagesh said that the NEP will also help in making India a 'Vishwa Guru' (Global Leader).

He was speaking after inaugurating JSS Pre-University College for Girls at Bapuji Layout in Bogadi here on Friday.

Stating that the Government is introducing the Centre's NEP-2020, Nagesh said that the JSS educational institutions are ahead of the Government in the implementation of NEP.

Asserting that the Centre is promoting desi form of education, he said that the move is to transform the educational sector which is still following the British system of education.

Noting that educational Institutions should have the necessary infrastructure to implement NEP, the Minister said that the new JSS PU College has a well-equipped lab and modern technology gadgets and equipment to deal with the necessities of modern day education.

Pointing out that JSS educational institutions have made a mark at the international level too, Nagesh observed that JSS must come forward for setting up a residential college in Mysuru.

'Though the Indian societal system is built in an orderly manner, our society is still following the Macaulay system of education. Now the Centre has come up with the NEP taking into consideration the indigenous practices and ideas. The NEP is also based on the aspirations of the freedom fighters,' he said. 48,000 people register for Digital Library membership

Mysuru, July 31 (GA&DM)- With the entire world living in a digital era, more than 48,000 people have registered for the Digital Library and Mobile Library concept introduced by the Department of Libraries.

Out of the 1.80 lakh members of the City and District Libraries, 48,000 have obtained Digital Library membership, which itself speaks about the growing popularity of the digital concept. The Digital Library has proved to be a boon for all readers, especially the students, who are appearing for competitive and professional exams. As the digital format is getting familiar, many students are turning up at the Central Library for working on computers there as a means of preparing for exams.

The members of the public and students can register for membership through https://www.karnatakadigitalpubliclibrary.org/login. Once becoming a member, a student can get access to more than 1 lakh books and videos on competitive exams. In case of non-availability of computer, a student or a reader can read books and get the information or knowledge they require, through e-Public library app.

There are a total of 58 public libraries in the district, including 33 in Mysuru city alone and 25 at taluk level. Besides this, there are 225 libraries which are under the control of RDPR Department.

The mobile libraries too are growing in popularity and the mobile library vehicle gets stationed at a point where there is a huge movement of people. The mobile library is getting more importance with the passage of time and members of the public, especially those living in new MUDA localities, are demanding mobile library in their areas.

City Central Library Deputy Director B. Manjunath said that libraries across the city are witnessing a growing number of readers, with home makers and young students too making regular visits.

Observing that the borrowing of books by members is increasing by the day, he opined that a certain section of readers want to take books home, rather than sit and read in Libraries.

Pointing out that the City Central Library has more than 43,000 books, he said that there were plans to start another mobile Library out of the MCC grants. But the plan was shelved due to various reasons, he said. Manjunath further said that there are 2 digital libraries in the district and the City Central library as of now has 2 computers for reader use. There are also plans to install 100 computers in the coming days which will be of huge benefit for students, he added.

'Train your mind to positive side'

Prof. Krishnegowda tells K-SET, UGC-NET candidates

Mysuru, July 31 (SSM)- "Teachers are the vocal class who speak with credibility in the world. Train your mind in such a way that you think only about the positive aspect of everything you come across. Have an optimistic outlook," said noted humorist and retired Kannada Professor M. Krishnegowda.

He was speaking at the valedictory of the 45-day free coaching classes for candidates appearing for K-SET, UGC-NET and Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) exam organised by Jnanabuthi Institute at Government High School and PU College in Lakshmipuram recently.

"Many students struggle in deciding what to do after their graduation. We are living in the world with many opportunities. It is our responsibility to grab opportunities. Live every moment to improve your personality," he said.

Stating that teachers must connect with students, Prof. Krishnegowda said that to be a better teacher one must be clear with their objectives and know the mindset of students.

"Hard work does not harm anybody. Be creative in your own way and never give up even after coming across any scams in the education sector," he advised.

Senior KAS Officer and Department of Archaeology, Heritage and Museums Commissioner A. Devaraju, who spoke after releasing the study book material, said that the world is competitive. "Run along with the world. Work hard till you attain success and reach your goal."

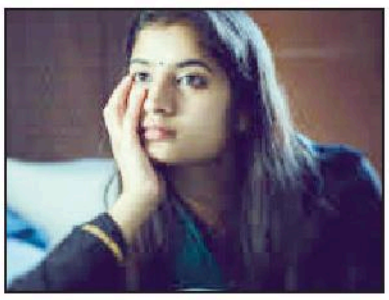
Wishing success to all the students, Devaraju said, "To be in track one must keep on taking exams. Competitive exams are exams of elimination to filter the best capable candidates. To encourage yourself, one must keep on taking exams and compete with the competitors," he added and recalled his days when he was a student of Jnanabuthi Institute.

On the occasion, Prof. Krishnegowda felicitated Devaraj, who recently took charge as the Commissioner of Department of Archaeology, Heritage and Museums. Study book materials were distributed to over 45 students.

Dr. N.N. Prahallada and Prof. R.N. Padmanabha were the chief guests. Prof. V. Jayaprakash, Rohan Ravikumar, Institute General Secretary Jainahalli Satyanarayanagowda and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Muse



Pronunciation: MYOOZ.
Meaning: To muse about something is to think about it carefully and thoroughly. The word can also mean "to become absorbed in thought," or "to think or say something in a thoughtful way."
Origin: Muse on this: the word muse comes from the Anglo-French muser, meaning "to gape, to idle, to muse." (Amuse has the same source.) The image evoked is one of a thinker so absorbed in thought as to be unconsciously open-mouthed. Those who muse on their pets' musings might like to know that muser is ultimately from Latin musus, meaning "mouth of an animal"—also source of the word muzzle. The sister goddesses of Greek mythology known as the Muses have no etymological link: that word, which in lowercase refers to a source of inspiration, comes from Greek Mousa. The ultimate Greek origin of the word museum translates as "of the Muses."
Example: "In the first single, 'Canola Fields,' the singer is musing about a long-ago love, and the song sounds as intimate as a conversation and as infectiously vibrant as a roadhouse rocker." — Jay N. Miller

THE ODD WORD

Madid

Wet; dank.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Much ado about nothing

Meaning: The phrase 'Much ado about nothing' is used when someone is overreacting and makes a big deal of fuss over something unimportant.
Origin: 'Much ado about nothing' is the title of a well-known play by Shakespeare (1599). The phrase assimilated into the English language and to this day is still used in its original form.
Example: "Some people make a big fuss about which seat they'll get on the plane, but as far as I can see it's much ado about nothing, since everyone will get to the same destination at precisely the same time."
